

Hi, my name is Ron Morck and I am running for councilor this coming election. I am from Oshawa Ontario, had a variety of jobs including road maintenance, and the latest was employed as a safety inspector. I have been coming up north for many years, enjoying snowmobiling, fishing and cottaging. When my wife (Sue Fitzwilliam) and I retired in 2017, we wanted to escape the fast paced, stressful environment and we always wanted to retire here up north and if I was lucky by the water. When the opportunity came up for us to retire here in St. Charles, we jumped at the chance to fulfil our dream and so far we have met quite a few people, and have been enjoying our retirement. I do like to get involved in our community and joined the St. Charles Library team as a board director. I am an active participant in the Warren and District Lions Club. I assisted and volunteered with the 55+ Connect Program (Meals on Wheels) when it was first started, and my wife is still a volunteer for both the 55+ Connect Program and assists with the food bank here in St. Charles.

I am running for councilor because I feel that this town has been let down by the current council and needs a positive change with new councilors who will listen to their voters. I am disgusted at the shape of our roads and the waste of money constantly used to patch and fill in the potholes. I find the current council is very secretive of what is happening in our town and where our money is going to. There is no excuse of what has transpired with our arena and all the money for the cost of lawyers etc. I can't make promises, but I will do everything I can to bring back what the town has lost and embrace good health care, education, and make St. Charles a healthy, great community for both the young and old.
